CALL FOR PROPOSALS

AOLP 2009 Conference

January 28 - 31, 2009

Scottsdale, AZ

The Deadline for Submission is June 30.

AOLP's Annual Conference always creates excitement throughout the profession. You are invited to become part of this exceptional educational event by making a presentation at the 2009 Annual Conference to be held Wednesday, January 28 through Saturday, January 31, 2009 in Scottsdale, Arizona.

The conference program, as always, will acknowledge the various aspects of our work and address the broad interests that are shared by those involved in our field. The Planning Committee is particularly interested in proposals for sessions that provide new ideas, expanded sessions on previously presented topics, intermediate and advanced levels of information and education. The goal is to provide our attendees with knowledge and ideas they can take home and put to use immediately. Presentations and materials are expected to reflect the high quality that our members have come to expect from this event.

We encourage you to contribute your expertise at the Conference and hope you will share this Call for Proposal form with other members or friends and colleagues in the industry. (Please note that AOLP does not provide airfare, hotel costs, an honorarium, or a complimentary registration for presenters.)

To submit your proposal for a Conference presentation, please complete both pages of the attached form and return to them to the AOLP headquarters by June 30, 2008. Proposals received after this date will be considered on a space-available basis only. Proposals will be reviewed by the Planning Committee and selected upon the criteria of overall quality, originality, CEU applicability, and appropriateness to this program. Presenters will be notified of their acceptance in early August of 2008.

The Call for Presentations is also posted on the AOLP website: www.aolponline.org
